Directive 2011/65/EG

„RoHS“ – Restriction of the use of certain Hazardous Substances

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

Directive 2011/65/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of June 8, 2011 aims to restrict the use of certain hazardous substances in electrical and electronic equipment (“RoHS” - Restriction of the use of certain Hazardous Substances). The directive is European law; it is currently being transposed into German law by the Electrical and Electronic Equipment Substances Ordinance.

In its own interest and in the interest of high product safety, Gestaguss-GEW Edelstahlgießerei GmbH takes its obligations under Directive 2011/65/EU very seriously. We therefore always endeavor to ensure that all products manufactured by us comply with the requirements of Directive 2011/65/EU and that all materials contained in the products manufactured by us do not contain any of the harmful substances listed in Directive 2011/65/EU or are only contained in the raw material as an alloy content within the permitted limit values, taking into account the exceptions in accordance with Annex III of Directive 2011/65/EU.

Should you have any further questions regarding the implementation of Directive 2011/65/EU in our company, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Yours sincerely

Gestaguss-GEW Edelstahlgießerei GmbH
